It also tells you about your rights and choices around your personal information, and how you can contact us. • We have implemented a global program, based on our Binding Corporate Rules, which functions as our code of conduct for privacy across our business, so we can responsibly process personal information. • Our privacy practices may vary among the countries in which we operate to reflect local practices and legal requirements. Depending on the purposes of processing and your relationship with us, we may also provide additional, customized notices about how we process your personal information. • This privacy notice only applies where we are responsible for making important decisions about your personal information (i.e., where we act as a ‘controller’). In some cases, we are not the ‘controller’ of your personal information – for example, as part of our business, we process personal information on behalf of our customers (and we are required to follow their instructions about how to use your personal information). In these cases, our customers act as controllers—you can refer to their privacy notices for more details about how they process your personal information. • If you do not agree with the terms of this privacy notice, please do not access, or continue using the Services.
